ted which provides for the collection of the sewage of the easterly part of the main village in the neighborhood of Clicquot Station on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad and its disposal by intermittent filtration upon land adjacent to the railroad south of Island Street, the effluent to be discharged into Boggastowe Brook.

The area in which it is proposed to provide sewerage facilities at the present time comprises the region adjacent to Clicquot Station on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, chiefly the factories and dwelling houses in the neighborhood of Daniels, Union and Lavender Streets. This region is drained by one of the tributaries of Boggastowe Brook, which rises in the southerly part of Millis, crosses Lavender Street opposite the Clicquot Club Company's factory, then flows northerly or northeasterly, through a pipe or conduit across Union Street and the railroad track, to an outlet north of Union Street where the brook becomes an open stream. Its channel from this point follows the railroad for several hundred feet easterly and then flows northerly toward Boggastowe Brook, passing at one point within 300 feet of the pumping station. The brook is practically an open sewer, and the water of your water supply is becoming affected in such a way that it is important that the pollution of the brook be prevented at the earliest possible time.

Several plans for the disposal has been considered, the most favorable of which, in the opinion of the Department, provides for disposing of the sewage from the portion of the town in question by intermittent filtration upon filter beds, to be located just south of Island Street and adjacent to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad in the northeasterly part of the town. The plans submitted provide for the construction of eight filters having an aggregate area of about one acre, with a preliminary sedimentation tank for the removal of debris from the water by means of a screen tank to provide for the removal of the debris from the water upon the filters. The sill at the entrance of the filter appears to be the place for the pump. For a pump well is found in a distance in the water. The pump is to be placed at this location. It is proposed to construct the filter in the beginning with a depth of 4 feet, and to increase the depth over the underdrain and to increase the depth from the filters by discharging the water into a large tank to be constructed northward and southward from the filter across the main road in front of the street in front of Brook.

The plan in regard to the location of the filter is to be constructed in the collection of the sewage of the entire portion of the town, which is to be a serious injury to your water supply, and the filter can be extended from time to time as the need arises to provide for other portions of the town.

It is important that all of the houses in the town and on a adjacent street in the northward of the town supply be connected with the sewer, and that houses constructed in this section in the future shall be connected with the sewers in the town. It is important to reduce the amount of water in the town, and to construct the sewers carefully, so as to avoid the possibility of all surface water and ground water, and it is also important that unpurified water from the town shall be kept out of the sewers. The proposed system will be adequate for the treatment of the sewage of the portion of the town in which it is proposed to construct sewers in the beginning of the town, and that water are kept out of the sewers. It is unnecessary to construct the filters a greater depth than 4 feet in the beginning.

but the depth should be increased to a full 5 feet within the next two or three years, or as soon as it is practicable to do this work. It is advisable to omit the sedimentation tank, at least in the beginning, but a suitable dosing tank should be provided so designed that any sludge which may collect therein may be readily discharged upon an adjacent filter bed.

The Department, acting under the provisions of Chapter 129 of the Special Acts of the year 1918, upon receipt of the application for the approval of the plans of sewerage for the town of Millis, gave a hearing at its office, Room 546 State House, on February 11, 1919, after due notice to the public. At this hearing plans showing proposed sewerage works for the town of Millis, in constructing a system of sewerage for the town of Millis, were submitted for the approval of the Department, and no person appeared in opposition to said plans. After the hearing and consideration of the plans, including the information presented relative thereto, it was voted to approve the proposed plans of a system of sewerage and sewage disposal for the town of Millis as modified and finally presented by the Sewer Committee of the town, which provide for the disposal of the sewage by intermittent filtration upon filter beds south of Island Street and adjacent to the westerly side of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. The location of the proposed works is shown on a plan filed in this office entitled, "Plan of Portion of Millis, Mass. Showing Proposed Disposal Area and Sewers for Immediate Construction. Scale: 1 in. = 200 feet. E. Worthington, Engineer. January 22, 1919."

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

Gypsy and Brown Tail Moth Department
For the Month of

There is a small, dark, rectangular object, possibly a book or a box, lying on the ground. It is positioned in the lower right quadrant of the image. The object has a dark, possibly black or dark brown, cover with some lighter, possibly white or light brown, text or markings on it. The text is not legible. The object is surrounded by a light-colored, possibly sandy or gravelly, surface. The background is a light, possibly white or light gray, surface. The overall image is somewhat blurry and has a low resolution.

I think that the reason that the House Moths have declined in numbers since 1917, owing to several reasons, is that in 1917 the spraying was not made as extensive as previous years. Secondly, the cold winter of 1917-18, which had begun in 1917, but was not fully felt by the moths until the following fall of 1917 and first of 1918. Thirdly, the spraying of the fields, early the next year, probably by the machine, did not affect them this year to any extent.

The Brown Tail Moths are very scarce. There being only one found this year.

REPORT OF SEWER COMMISSIONERS.

The Sewer Commissioners submit the following report:

In the taking of land for sewer purposes a strip of land 100 feet wide was taken for the sewer continuing east from Water street on the north side of the railroad, and adjoining the swamp land to an acreage of 20 acres, which affords room for future development.

This taking also protects the drainage of the swamp from the spring.

The most available supply of sand and gravel suitable to build the sewerage beds was furnished by the following: the N. Y., N. H. & H. P. R., and an agreement was made to purchase the entire lot containing these materials for $500.

Upon the recommendation of the State Board of Health, the first contract was made in July 1891 with the Boston Union street, and the manufacturing plants of J. M. Harrison & Co., Cluquet Clark, Ginger Allen, and Samuel Jones.

When the system is completed and ready for use, the assessments will be made on a valuation of the property of the town.

In accordance with the town by-laws, the specifications were printed. Specifications were ordered to be printed, but are on hand with the Sewer Commissioners.

Engineer Worthington is preparing the plans for the laying of contract and the location of the works at this time, the present time.

The preliminary report on a system of Sewerage for Millis was submitted by me under date of December 14, 1917. The method of disposal which this report provided was by Imhoff Tanks and sprinkling filters. The location was along the railroad tracks north-easterly from Clicquot Station about ft. 1800 from Union Street.

This report and plan were submitted to the State Department of Health as is required by the special act passed by the legislature in 1918, Chapter 129. This report was sub-the sand chamber. With good weather this should be completed quickly next spring.

On section two the work remaining consist largely of the sedimentation tanks and embankments on both filter and sludge beds above the filter material.

With reasonable conditions this work on both sections should be completed in about one month after resumption in the spring.

The following table will show the condition of these contracts financially to date and the estimated cost of completion.

Extensions of the collecting system may be estimated if there seems to be a necessity for such extensions. A sewerage system is a plant of gradual growth. The work under construction provides the main outfall and disposal works. Additions will come by simply extending the sewers in accordance with the completed plan as submitted.

Respectfully yours,

E. WORTHINGTON,

Engineer.

The six hundred and fifty dollars that the Committee ask for under New Equipment is to furnish the large room in the Adams School building. The three other rooms are over-crowded and many were sent home. There is about twenty eight new pupils to enter High School next fall and only twelve going out, making it necessary to install fifteen new seats in High School building.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee of Millis—

Permanent Teachers.

A permanent teacher may be defined as one who regards teaching as a profession, and who remains in the same position for complete years in a position. More teachers of this kind are necessary for better schools throughout the state. The town of Millis has been fortunate in this respect. In the last three years approximately one thousand teachers have graduated from the Normal Schools of Massachusetts without their places being supplied. This decrease must inevitably tend to lower the standard of instruction.

The state and the nation are striving to increase the number of permanent teachers. Many towns and cities have followed the example of the national government. Increased appropriations have been necessary to insure proper educational standards. The welfare of the state depends to a great extent upon the number of teachers and good schools.

Practical Instruction.

School room discipline and lessons in the various subjects are part of the wise teacher's influence. Habits of study must be formed and books must be used for a purpose to an end. The object of school training should be the development of body and mind, and the formation of right habits of character. Pupils must be taught to adjust themselves to the times and environment in which they are placed. Practical instruction simply means instruction which is of practical use.

The strain of modern life demands sound, strong bodies; hence, the necessity for emphasizing physical training. Writing does not properly consist of exercises and flourishes, it must be made an easy means of expression for daily use. Arithmetic should give but little time to solving mathematical puzzles and much practice in the fundamental operations as applied to ordinary problems. The study of English although demanding a special, definite period should not be limited to that period. History and Geography must not ignore present times and near-by places.

At the beginning of the school year each teacher in the grades are given the following outline:

Elementary Schools.

Physical Training—

Regular Exercises.

Correct Standing and Sitting.

Writing—

Muscular Movement.

Forms of Letters.

English—

Drill on Oral and Written Expression.

Drill, on Correct Forms.

Arithmetic—

Drill on Addition, Subtraction, Multiplication.

Division.

Applications.

Suggestions—

Visiting Schools.

Exchanging work and rooms.

Required—

Monthly papers on some subject according to outline.

These topics are suggestive of work to be emphasized during the year. Physical training, Writing, English and Arithmetic do not constitute the entire school curriculum, but are of fundamental importance. They are the foundation of practical instruction needing constant and careful attention

Individual Pupils.

Every school is made up of individuals often differing widely in abilities and attainments even in the same grade. There is undoubtedly a tendency in dealing with classes and grades to overlook the individual pupil. A lesson prepared and taught for the average of a class may fail to impress some of the lower ones, or it may not furnish proper material for the development of the more active members. All that must be provided for. If a pupil is really unprepared for a certain grade he should be placed where he belongs. It is often better for a pupil to remain two years in a grade than to be demoted or put back. Each case, however, must be judged by itself. A pupil who is thoroughly able to perform advanced work should receive a double promotion. This is not only an act of justice to the individual but an incentive to others.

Visiting Schools.

School systems throughout the state and the nation have many things in common. Classification by grades, courses of study, method of teaching and promotion may be much the same in two towns or cities with quite dissimilar results, but the chief factor in a good school is a good teacher. Valuable help may often be secured by observing the work of such a teacher. Visiting good schools, followed by an oral or written report is a requirement that should be met by each teacher at least once a year.

Educational Literature.

We study reports of workers in various fields to learn what is being accomplished for human progress. The best educational literature represents the investigation and thought of experts. Every educator needs help and inspiration in solving various problems. A single article in some educational publication may furnish the needed help. The habit of regularly reading good school literature is sure to bring its own reward.

Respectfully submitted,

ALBERT S. AMES,

Superintendent.

Report of Supervisor of Drawing and Music.

Millis, Mass.,

Dec. 31, 1919.

Mr. Albert S. Ames,
Superintendent of Schools,
Millis, Mass.

Dear Sir:

The work of the pupils of the public schools of Millis in the department of music and drawing is being furthered along the same pedagogical lines which former supervisors in this district have proved to be successful.

Drawing and music, under the present plans, are made correlative to the other subjects being taught in the classroom.

The valuable co-operation given by the teachers, to whom sincere appreciation is extended, is a matter worthy of note. Upon the teachers falls the responsibility of daily drill as directed by the supervisor. Efficient co-operation on the part of both teachers and pupils places the standards of the work now being accomplished on an encouraging and gratifying plane.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH GRIFFIN,
Supervisor of Music and Drawing,
Millis Public Schools.

Report of Principal.

Mr. A. S. Ames, Supt. of Schools.

Work in the High School for the past year has gone smoothly and uninterruptedly. Last spring notice was received from the College Entrance Examination Board that we had been given the specimen certification privilege, which means that we shall be on the approved list of that Board as soon as we have two graduates from one class in college and doing creditable work.

Music, this year, is being given twice a week throughout the schools and penmanship has been placed under special supervision.

Yours respectfully,

R. P. CHAMBERLAIN.
